Art Unit: 3743

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: first species of exhaust air motor regulator (see page 13, penultimate paragraph and claim 2) wherein "the desired value for the exhaust air motor is calculated on dependence on the outside temperature..."

second species wherein PAB SOLL is determined by supply air temperature supply (page 13, penultimate paragraph and claim 2), third species wherein PAB SOLL is determined by supply^s air pressure (page 13, penultimate paragraph and claim 2), or and an indeterminate number of variants of the above three species which may be disclosed ^{and} ~~as~~ claimed in claims 2-5.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 appears to be generic.

13 Applicant is advised that a response to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable 15 thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

If applicant elects one of the indeterminant number of variants of the first three species, he is required to submit a proposed drawing correction to show it, as well as sufficient details to enable the examiner to understand precisely what is being disclosed and where that disclosure exists. Claim 2, as written, claims a series of alternative (and mutually exclusive) structures (species) in a way that is not permissible. In other words it is not seen how all of these systems could work together as claim 2 implies when using the word "and" between variants (which are deemed mutually exclusive).

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
